Spring 2012

Message from the Administrator, Laura MacDermaid

Finally, the year we have been waiting for is here. Construction of the new Fairview Lodge is scheduled to begin in late spring. The next few years will certainly be exciting and busy. With any project of this magnitude, there will be disruptions, inconveniences and other challenges. We will keep you informed of pre-construction operational changes, as well as the project status as we move forward. Watch out for announcements of Town Hall meetings over the next two or three months.

In January, a group of staff and managers met to develop our 2012 to 2014 Strategic Plan, as well as our Annual Business Plan. We have identified a number of initiatives designed to improve upon quality of care, safety and communication. Both documents are posted in the main hallway for review. If you would like a copy, please see Janice Lanegger in the Business Office. Thank you to all those who participated in developing the plans.

I want to give families advanced notice of our upcoming Family Council annual meeting to be held on April 17 at 7 p.m. Most of the home's managers will attend to introduce themselves, talk briefly about their departments and be available to answer any questions. I encourage you to attend if you can. Further information is forthcoming.

Since our last newsletter, we have had a number of new residents, volunteers and staff join us at Fairview. Welcome to each of you. I wish you well, and please don't hesitate to drop in to see me at any time.

The defendant's office was located in the J. Edgar Hoover Building in the District of Columbia.
  2. On July 31, 2016, the FBI opened a Foreign Agents Registration Act ("FARA") investigation known as Crossfire Hurricane into whether individual(s) associated with the Donald Trump for President Campaign were witting of and/or coordinating activities with the Russian government. The Report on the Affairs of British North America,[1] (1839) commonly known as the Durham Report or Lord Durham's Report, is an important document in the history of Quebec, Ontario, Canada and the British Empire. The parallel nature of government organization in Australia and Canada to this day is an ongoing proof of the long-enduring effects of the report's recommendations. ^ "Durham Report | The Canadian Encyclopedia". In 1840, the population of Canada East was estimated at 670,000, while the population of Canada West was estimated to be 480,000.[15] Lord Durham had not recommended this approach and had instead proposed that the representation should be based on the respective populations of the two regions.[16] The British government rejected that recommendation and instead implemented equal representation, apparently to give the English-speaking population of the new province a dominant voice in the provincial government, furthering the goal of assimilating the French-speaking population. ^ Craig, Gerald M., ed. 351-374 DOI: 10.2307/4048187 online Smith, William. The people living in both colonies in Canada were struggling, as the economic situation in both areas all but collapsed. Political Thought of Lord Durham (McGill-Queen's Press-MQUP, 1988). It was also pointed out that an uprising had occurred in Upper Canada where there was only one "race". The Report was highly controversial. For the report on the FBI's investigation into links between Donald Trump and Russia, see Russia investigation origins counter-narrative Å$ÅÄ ÄDurham inquiry. To conduct their Government harmoniously, in accordance with its established principles, is now the business of its rulers; and I know not how it is possible to secure that harmony in any other way, than by administering the Government on those principles which have been found perfectly efficacious in Great Britain. I entertain no doubts as to the national character which must be given to Lower Canada; it must be that of the British Empire; that of the majority of the population of British America; that of the great race which must, in the lapse of no long period of time, be predominant over the whole North American Continent. ^ Lord Durham's Report, pp. Both Canadas were in a state of distress. But the Crown must, on the other hand, submit to the necessary consequences of representative institutions; and if it has to carry on the Government in unison with a representative body, it must consent to carry it on by means of those in whom that representative body has confidence."<sup>[8]</sup> "A plan by which it is proposed to ensure the tranquil government of Lower Canada, must include in itself the means of putting an end to the agitation of national disputes in the legislature, by settling, at once and for ever, the national character of the Province. It was pointed out that many of the Patriote leaders were of British or British Canadian origin, including among others Wolfred Nelson, the hero of the Battle of Saint-Denis; Robert Nelson, author of the Declaration of Independence of Lower Canada, who would have become President of Lower Canada had the second insurrection succeeded; journalist Edmund Bailey O'Callaghan; and Thomas Storrow Brown, general during the Battle of St-Charles. It was considered controversial as it suggested radical ideas for the time, such as for the British Parliament granting the Canadas a responsible government. D. pp. Ä 77¢ÄÄ 78. "Durham Report".
